

One of the activities our Scouts participate in is a Color-Code War. Scouts line up and count off to form teams of four or five Scouts.

Each team is assigned a color and the Scouts wear a t-shirt the color of their team, such red, yellow, blue, and white. Each team then takes part in a contest with different events, such as running, climbing ropes, obstacles course, canoeing and more.

The winning team gets to decorate their tents and put streamers up in the campground matching their color.
